(European General Manager, I. N. S.)PARIS, Jan. 24.—France's relations with West Germany became more strained today than at any time since the end of war.French official indignation at the Bonn government mounted to new heights of bitterness as a result of the latest developments in the Franco-German dispute over the Saar territory.The French government is particularly incensed over reports that Bonn is considering a memorandum proposing inclusion of the Saar in the West German republic as a 12th state.French officials feel that successful integration of the coal-rich Saar into the economy of France is achievable only if the Saar remains politically detached from Germany.Attitude Described
The attitude of the Bonn government towards the proposed Franco-German trade pact was described by high French official circles as "blackmail—reminiscent of Nazi methods."The French assert that trade negotiations were concluded a week ago last Saturday and the pact was ready for signing when the West German representative, Baron Vohlfahrt von Maltahn, was suddenly recalled to Bonn without explanation.The French claim they later learned, through German newspapers, that Bonn intended to raise the question of German agricultural opposition to concessions granted France under the pact on food imports into Germany.French officials also said the German representative admitted privately that Bonn was prepared to accept the agreement anyway but that the "political atmosphere was unfavorable" pending a solution of the Saar problem.May Mar Economic Plans

the German representative France

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—
Seventy-three thousand soft coal miners either stayed at home or reported for roving picket duty today in the United Mine Workers' fourth straight week of work stoppages.A small pocket of 11,000 diggers worked in western Pennsylvania but some 39,- 000 others yielded to the "no contract, no work" logic of rebellious bands of roving pickets.In eastern Ohio, northern West Virginia, Alabama and Kentucky over 33,500 rank and filers remained away from the pits. Yet elsewhere in the nation nearly 32,000 bituminous miners swung picks in the second day of the three-day week imposed last Dec. 5.

Third Week Of Strikes

Although this was the third straight week in which scattered strikes have been concentrated in the five-state area, UMW President John L. Lewis hasn't taken any outward action. On Jan. 11
Lewis "suggested" his idle union members resume production.Since then, district leaders of the UMW have tried unsuccessfully to launch back-to-work movements.Sources in the coal industry still believe the strike technique is part of the UMW's plan to win a new contract in an eight-month battle with big coal operators and steel firms.One coal spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, told International News Service "the situation is too confusing to discuss." Another in northern West Virginia said any public statement now "would be guessing."Leaders Not Talking

Wampum Man Dies As Result Of Burns

Injuries Sustained On December 19 Cause Death Of Paul Coulter Early Today

Paul Coulter, aged 53 years, of R.D. 1, Wampum, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6:55 a.m. today, the result of burns received on December 19, 1949, when gas in a stove in his farm home exploded as he went to light it. He suffered burns about the face and hands.

Mr. Coulter had been recovering from the effects of the injuries, and expired suddenly. A post-mortem examination conducted at the hospital, revealed that death was due to a pulmonary embolism, which was traced to the injuries. Coroner Charles E. Allen stated, "Mr. Coulter was a son of the late Charles and Elizabeth Coulter and was born on February 26, 1896. He was an elder of the Chestown Christian church, Chestown.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. A. E. Young, North Eaton, O., and Miss Pearl E. Coulter, Fort Wayne, Ind. and two aunts, Mrs. Ellen Hennon, Ellwood City and Mrs. Mary Freed of Homewood. He was well known throughout the county for his Sunday school work.

Remains will be taken to the Marshall Funeral Home in Wampum. Arrangements are incomplete and will be announced in Wednesday's paper.

CONGRESS MAY FAVOR SOME EXCISE TAX CUTS

revenue increases through plugging of tax law loopholes. But there was little firm opinion that corporation, estate and gift taxes would be boosted to provide an additional one billion dollars in revenue.

Warms On Veto
The president asked for both and warned that he will veto any excise cuts not accompanied by other increases to compensate for this lost revenue. This warning provoked vehement charges by Republicans that the president was trying to "dictate" tax legislation.

GOP leaders and Sen. George (D) Ga. senate finance chairman, want an immediate, separate excise cutting bill. But supporters of Mr. Truman, including Doughton, want to play safe by keeping losses and gains in the same bill.

imized the importance of the Saar question, adding: "I feel that whatever is done regarding the Saar, nothing should be permitted to impair Franco-German relations or prevent Germany from coming into the western European community of nations. I feel certain that they will not."

Signs of Nationalism
Later, in a broadcast report to the American people, on Germany, McCloy conceded there appeared signs of resurgence of nationalism and efforts of past nazis joining with domestic communists. "In other words," he said, "there is a danger, but if there were no danger in Germany we would not be there. Germany constitutes a danger within itself and an even more fearful danger if allied with, or subordinated to, the interests of the Soviet Union.

"The communist and rightist extremists in Germany seem prepared to get together with the totalitarianism if the Soviet should an opportunity present itself."

CHEST MEMBERS MEET THURSDAY

agencies that operate with Chest funds get their public airing.

Recently the Chest board recommended that surplus funds, accumulated over the war years, be utilized to make up the difference between this year's goal and the actual funds raised. The difference is approximately $22,350.

Reluctant Move
This was a move taken reluctantly by the board and it felt that if that reserve funds was to be used final approval should be granted by the Chest membership.

Any other business brought up by members attending will be taken care of at the Thursday meeting.

In making the announcement about the meeting President Paul Dingley said:

"As a contributor to the Chest and a resident of the community, I am sure members are urged to attend this meeting. This offers plenty of opportunity for all to learn and understand how their Chest contribution is used to promote a more healthful, prosperous community."

mail" tactics and suspended negotiations.

According to French officials, the Germans then gave the "glad hand" to an Italian economic mission to Bonn. But high French officials told International News Service that the Italians promised they will not take advantage of the present situation to conclude a trade pact with Western Germany at France's expense.

Meanwhile, American officials in Paris are worried lest the Franco-German war mar western economic unity plans.

Some of these officials, however, are inclined to blame France for precipitating a crisis by seeking unilaterally a 50 to 90-year lease on the Saar mines.

Washington reportedly considers this exceeds the spirit of the big four Moscow accord of 1947 providing the final disposition of the Saar will be determined when a peace treaty is concluded with Germany.

MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE STEPS UP

local folks are asked to make their contributions as promptly as possible in order that the $15,000 goal set for the county be attained.

No returns have been received from the boxes, which have been placed in strategic places throughout the county, nor from the schools or industries. It is expected that most of the schools will make their returns this week.

An unsolicited letter from Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hickey, of Beaver Falls, reveals just how much the March of Dimes funds mean to those who are afflicted. Their son, David, aged 7 years, was stricken last year. As soon as the Beaver Falls Chapter learned of David's plight, they took over, unsolicited, and saw that he had the proper care. Treatment is still being continued in the case.

"The cost to us," Mr. and Mrs. Hickey stated, "would have been around $2,000 or more, which we just did not have. There was no red tape with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. No questions were asked. The next time you think of giving a dime, give a dollar instead. It might be the means of making it possible to help some child to walk. Perhaps it may be your own."

This same feeling of gratitude is expressed by the families and victims of all who have been helped by the Foundation. "Do it now," Chairman Grizzle suggests to local contributors.

It's figuring how and learning why.
And looking forward and thinking high,
And dreaming little and doing much;
It's keeping always in closest touch
With what is finest in word and deed;
It's daring blithely the field of chance
While making of labor a brave romance.

It's going onward despite defeat
And fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet
It's being clean and it's playing fair,
It's laughing lightly at Dame Despair,
It's looking up at the stars above
And drinking deeply of life and love.

Mr. Schweinsberg added that Mr. White's opinion gave a plan, as carried in another news item, which, in Mr. White's opinion would net the city $10,000, or $12,000 in mercantile tax from corporations who are not liable for a net profits tax.

Don't Buy Auto Insurance Blind...

Compare ALLSTATE with any other-feature by feature

When you spend your money for anything as important as auto insurance, you owe it to yourself to know just what you are buying. A glance at the digest of the new state auto law, in the panel, will show you that this is now especially true. Without adequate protection, your auto registration certificate and your driver's license may be suspended.

But not if you have adequate Allstate protection. Here is protection that really does a job.

The New State Auto Law in a nutshell

What it means to YOU!

- If you, as a driver or car owner, are involved in an accident causing bodily injury to or death of another, or damage to another's property in excess of $100, your right to drive and your auto registration may be suspended unless:
 - You can show that you were covered by adequate bond or adequate liability insurance with limits of at least $5,000 per person, for injury or death and $10,000 per accident, and $1,000 for property damage; OR
 - Your car was being driven or parked by another person without your consent, or that it was legally parked; OR
 - You deposit security in the form and amount required by the State, up to the above limits; OR
 - You can furnish the State with satisfactory evidence that you have been released from liability or finally adjudicated not liable, or have executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for installment payments; OR
 - Have your insurance company file proof that you were protected at the time of the accident by acceptable and adequate insurance, such as ALLSTATE.
- If you can't do at least one of these things, your auto registration and your driver's license will be suspended.

Allstate, organized by Sears, Roebuck and Co., is famous for its fast growth. Allstate specializes only in auto insurance. Allstate Agents are specialists: Allstate rates are low. Allstate is known for its fair fast settlements, without red tape or quibbling. You're treated right.

Allstate pioneered the first pictorial auto insurance policy in history. Clear pictures help show you, in a flash, what protection you can buy. The "4 to 1" and the "Plus Five P.D." plans, both featured by Allstate, offer you liability protection at lower cost. Ask also about the Disappearing Deductible Collision Insurance—another Allstate feature.

So see Allstate without fail: Compare Allstate's low rates. Compare Allstate coverage by feature—feature by feature—benefit by benefit—with other companies. Find out how little it costs to be fully, safely protected with Allstate. Call on the Allstate Insurance Company Agent at your Sears store today.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Brother, can you spare a dime?

A dime for a child in braces, for a man on crutches, a woman in a wheel chair, an old lady with a cane? Particularly for a gallant old lady with a cane?

I knew the old lady well. She was 72 when she died, and her gay, infectious laughter filled the first twenty years of my life. For the last 70 of those 72 years, she limped through life. That is, she limped physically. Mentally and spiritually, she raced ahead of all of us.

During the early days of the Civil War, when Janie was two years old, her doting family noticed that Janie seemed to "favor" her left foot. They thought she had tumbled down stairs and hurt her ankle.

But the slight limp did not disappear in a week or two, or even in a month. Even the doctors who examined Janie were unable to explain the limp, and they, too, accepted the family hypothesis of a fall down the stairs.

Forgot She Was Crippled

The limp grew with Janie, or rather, her left leg never quite kept pace with the rest of her. But she was so happy and gay, so picture-pretty that people kept forgetting that she was "crippled." No one could ever think of Janie as "crippled."

When a young woman, she went west with her father, to Idaho. Then it was a little-known spot on pioneer maps, an area on the Oregon Trail infested with rattlesnakes, Indians and sage brush.

There Janie married my grandfather. "The prettiest bride in the valley," her contemporaries still used to tell me when I was a child. Pretty, but lame—and game. She helped grandfather altar the land and build the house. She helped sow the crops. She tended a flower garden with tea roses and lilacs whose shoots she had carried west with her from her old home.

And she bore six children in a country where a woman was lucky if a neighbor woman lived sufficiently close by to be with her when a new baby was due.

It was not an easy life in the years when the grasshoppers, in the space of a single day, wiped out the labor of one year and the flood intended for the next. It was not an easy life in the years when the Indians were a constant threat.

Once, when grandfather was out with the scouts, a rider whipped his horse through the valley, ordering women and children to the fort. That block house was six miles away. The time was so short that the rider would not even permit Janie to put shoes on the little boy who was my father.

But with a baby in her arms and three small children holding her skirts, Janie limped—and "briskly," she always said—to the fort. She was almost sixty, the children grown, the territory long since the state of Idaho and life settled and placid when she went to visit friends in Salt Lake. There she had the misfortune to break an ankle.

Told Why She Limped

And for the first time in her life, Janie was told why she limped. The young doctors at the big hospital told her, to her astonishment, that she had had infantile paralysis when two.

Janie had had a light case to be sure, and the disease was not recognized in those days. She was lucky to have escaped with nothing but a weak ankle, one leg a little shorter than the other.

But if medicine had been as far advanced in those days as it is now, Janie need not have limped at all. She need not have been forced to walk with a cane as she grew older. Or to have wept so with hurt pride when her bumbling children bought her the wheel chair she refused to use and which was hastily returned to the store.

Brother, can you spare a dime for the March of Dimes?

Can you spare a dime for an old lady, so that all the potential Janies may walk straight and true?

Parent-Teachers At McGill School Hear Dr. Hartman

Other Features Of Recent Meeting Of Teachers And Parents At Northside School

Members of the Arthur McGill Parent-Teachers' Association met in the school auditorium, with Mrs. William Langan, vice president, conducting the business. Preceding the general meeting, the executive committee met in Dr. Hartman's office.

Edwin O. Feass reported on a recent visit to the school board meeting and urged other members to attend these sessions. Mr. Feass also told the group of plans for the March meeting, with the subject to be "The School Budget." The budget committee of the school board, of which Dr. Fulton Jackson is chairman, has been invited to attend. An invitation has also been extended to John B. Bechtel, secretary and business manager of the board.

Mr. Feass then introduced Dr. Joseph A. Hartman, principal of the McGill and Highland schools, who discussed the subject, "Re-cording Pupil Growth." "We must have a philosophy of education and build the report card around that philosophy. Several principles have guided the thinking of the report card committee in constructing the new forms for reporting pupil growth to parents. The first of these is that schools are for children of every race, color and creed. The second states that the worth and dignity of each individual is recognized. Continuous progress for every child at his own rate is the third principle."

Objectives Stressed

Continuing, Dr. Hartman, stated, "To emphasize the art of living as well as the art of learning, is the first objective in reporting pupil growth. The entire growth of a child is to be reported and not academic achievement alone. The report card is to be intelligible to the child so that he will know the goals toward which he is working. The home and school will be brought into a closer relationship so that the optimum growth of each child may be achieved."

"The report card is now in the process of revision, working toward the idea of a report being built around the whole child and his progress. The old reports were based on the percentages method of grading. Since all children are not alike physically or mentally, marks do not give you a true picture of a child's development."

Dr. Hartman brought his highly informative discussion to a close by saying, "Teaching is a difficult job, but with the help of parents who send in ideas of report card revision, we will be able to do better teaching."

The meeting closed with a question and answer period led by the study group, consisting of Mrs. Maierson, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Simon Skole and Mrs. William Trimble.

Norman Nelson will be guest speaker at the February meeting, with her topic "Guidance in the New Castle Public Schools."

Pennsylvania High In Army Personnel

Contributes Most Replacements In 25th Division In Past Six Months

Confirming the popular belief that Pennsylvania has long been the leading manpower producer of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service, the 25th Infantry Division stationed in Osaka, Japan, recently stated in the Pacific edition of the "Stars and Stripes" that "although there is a matter of approximately 8,500 miles separating Pennsylvania from Osaka, men from the Keystone State must feel pretty much at home there, since Pennsylvania has contributed a total of 110 replacements in the past six months. This was the highest in the 48 states, all of which are represented."

The State of Texas produced 80 men and a close runner was New York with 73. To give the division an international flavor, men have come from the far off countries and territories as well, with Puerto Rico, Mexico, Hawaii, Canada and the Philippines represented. For the sake of variety, one came from Japan and another from Indonesia.

Local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting representatives, located at the Post Office Building, New Castle, revealed that the calendar year of 1949 credited the State of Pennsylvania with 20,109 enlistments.

Women Of Moose Have Initiation Sunday Afternoon

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, Guest Speaker, Gives Inspiring Message On Child Care

Honoring Child Care Chapter Program, an impressive initiation ceremony was conducted Sunday afternoon by the Women of the Moose at the Loyal Order of Moose home, South Mercer street.

Solemnity characterized the procedure with Senior Regent Mrs. Clara Jameson conducting the colorful ceremony. A large number of members and their guests were present for the occasion. During the rite, Graduate Regent Mrs. Orpha McConnell presented Mrs. Jameson with a lovely corsage on behalf of the organization. Mrs. Robert Harris, daughter of Mrs. McConnell, received a wedding gift from her co-workers in honor of her recent marriage. Thirteen new candidates were welcomed into the organization.

Preside At Stations
Presiding at the stations of faith, hope and charity, symbols of the organization, were faith, Junior Graduate Regent Mrs. Agnes Fisher, hope, Junior Regent, Mrs. Mabel Schell and charity, chaplain, Mrs. Mae O'Neil. Mrs. Clara Hawk was piano accompanist for the initiatory work.

Following the procedure, Mrs. Jameson presented the guest speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, whose topic was "Child Care." Rev. Jones stressed the fact that the Women of the Moose were to be commended for their wonderful work in connection with Mooseheart. "The Child City" in Illinois, and emphasized the great need for these same principles to be carried out not only toward their own children but the children of the community. Rev. Jones said "The way of a child has been rough down through the ages and men with the calibre of James J. Davis, founder of Mooseheart, have by their faith in Almighty God fused faith into civilization. The wonderful feature about Mooseheart is that each child is permitted to worship the God of his choice. Mooseheart is non-sectarian."

Rev. Jones, a personal friend of James J. Davis, who was a Welsh immigrant, stated that "there is no greater institution than Mooseheart; known all over the world. Every institution is the length and shadow of men's personality. Mooseheart, the Child City, is the length and shadow of a great man, his philosophies, creeds and ideals."

Dinner And Entertainment
Providing delightful entertainment, Chuckie and his Castle Lights displayed a program of local talent which proved pleasing to the assemblage. Members of the group were Chuckie Slunko, Virginia Cerebell, Ronnie Cox, and Marlene Pitzer.

Topping off the pleasure of the afternoon, a delicious tureen dinner was served by the social committee headed by Mrs. Faye Pitzer. Aides were Mesdames Alice Clark, Mary Perry, Mabel Schell, Josephine Trumble, Colleen Paterson, Ethel Dibbly, Violet Burgo, Ethel James, Katherine Barnes, Ruth Hookway, Ruth Seegar, Elizabeth Cross, Edna Cox, Ina Cleveley and Catherine Shaffer.

On January 27, Women of the Moose will motor to Mercer to the mid-winter conference where they will have the honor of conducting the opening ritualistic work.

On February 1, the regular business meeting will be held at the Moose home, and on February 4, a special fund raising event will be held.

Friday, January 27, there will be a chairladies meeting at the home of Mrs. Loretta Moore, 418 Martin street.

Among the special guests present for the ceremony were Mrs. J. Stenger, Mrs. Paul Zarembo, Mrs. Margaret Ciccone and Mrs. Russell Fitch, officers of the New Castle hospital auxiliary.

The chapter program was under the supervision of Mrs. Eva Nicholson and Mrs. Edna Cox was responsible for the entertainment.

Rev. Jones, a personal friend of James J. Davis, who was a Welsh immigrant, stated that "there is no greater institution than Mooseheart; known all over the world. Every institution is the length and shadow of men's personality. Mooseheart, the Child City, is the length and shadow of a great man, his philosophies, creeds and ideals."

Steel Industry Operations Lower

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The American Iron and Steel Institute today forecast a slightly lower level of steel industry operations this week than a week ago.

It estimated probably ingot output at 93 and 9-10ths per cent of capacity, a decline of one and 1-10th points from last week's revised figure of 95 per cent of capacity.

The institute attributed the setback to scattered stoppages in the industry and fuel shortages stemming from disturbances in coal production.

It said that today's estimate for the first time was based on operations on the enlarged capacity of the industry.

The institute calculated that the American steel industry is now geared to produce 99,392,800 tons of ingots and castings annually, as compared with 96,120,930 a year ago.

New Safety Law To Be Enforced In Pennsylvania

Governor Says Law To Be Enforced Promptly And Firmly In State

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff declared that Pennsylvania's new safety responsibility law will be enforced promptly and firmly.

The law, effective February 1, is the topic of a radio address by the governor prepared for delivery this week.

The governor also called for school authorities to adopt a system of safe driver education in the state's high schools.

"But until education has had more time to do its job," Duff said, "we must rely upon laws to control those who obviously don't know how to control themselves."

The governor pointed out that 1949 was the commonwealth's most successful year in reduction of highway fatalities since the end of the war.

"It is entirely probable that when the highway accident statistics for the entire nation have been tabulated, they will reveal that Pennsylvania's mileage death rate, which was the lowest in the history of the commonwealth, will be below the national average," the chief executive said.

"The minimum result we will expect in 1950 is a reduction of at least 25 per cent in the number of deaths and injuries on our streets and highways, with a corresponding reduction of economic losses," he added.

Another Weapon
The safety responsibility law, Duff said, gives the commonwealth another weapon against habitual accident-causers.

The governor said the law "will bring to an end the day when any motor vehicle owner or operator can become involved in an accident which causes death or injury, or property damage exceeding $100, without paying for the damage he has caused."

"In other words, those who smash up other people and their property and try to duck their financial responsibility will simply cease to be motorists," the governor said.

Former Employee Of City Requests He Get Job Back

Harry Barr, former member of the sewer department of the city, appeared before council Monday and said he had been dismissed by former Councilman James Gibson and had been promised reinstatement, which had not materialized.

"I have listened to your discussion today. I worked for the city 13 years. I was laid off eight years ago," and added, "yet I am walking the streets."

"I can't get a job," after which he told of some hazardous work he did while employed.

"I worked at the disposal plant last year and said it was in fine condition."

"I was told if my name came before council I would be voted down."

The mayor denied having had any knowledge of this and Mr. Barr possibly referred to the former administration.

He said the lay-off had "beat me out of a pension."

Mr. Barr inferred Mr. Gibson laid him off in order to hire Mr. Gibson's brother.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24.—Adele Jergins, the blonde and curvaceous screen beauty, has done the strip tease for the last time for the movie cameras.

For one thing—she wants to get her health back. And for another—she's tired of being typed as a gun moll or floozy who does the strip at the drop of a hat.

No More Stripping
She issued her no more stripping ultimatum on the set of "Code 3" where she was doing her dance in a slinky black dress and a white fur piece. Between takes she wheezed and dabbed at her nose with a tissue. The film actress said that she had the granddaddy of all colds and it could only be blamed on the strip tease. She exclaimed: "They just can't get enough heat on the set when they want me to do a strip tease. I always come down with a cold. This one is just the last straw."

"My doctor tells me that if I don't want to come down with pneumonia I've just got to get a change in film roles."

Adele is a cat stripper in "Code 3." She's supposed to be married to Douglas Fowley, but she makes sheep eyes at William Tallman, who plays a gang leader, and stirs up all kinds of trouble.

She also did the strip tease in "Together Again" and "Ladies of the Chorus."

Catches Cold Easily
She said that she had no idea how she got started on the strip business, she declared that she'd never even seen a bonafide stripper in action. She was coached in the steps by the ever-helpful studio crew who seemed to be always at hand to offer suggestions.

"I just shudder when I read that there's a striptease scene in a script they give me," Adele declared. "For I know that I'll come down with a cold."

"I just don't see how the professional strippers hold up under the strain. I should think that they'd have colds all the time."

BLONDE COP
Virginia Huston, blonde lovely and former Omaha college drama student, has been sworn in as a member of the Los Angeles police department.

She became the only feminine movie star personality who is also a bonafide officer of a metropolitan police force.

She was appointed to reserve status in connection with her portrayal of a policewoman in Republic's "Woman from Headquarters."

As a lady cop, they say, Virginia may wear the regulation uniform, carry a gun and make arrests, if necessary.

Mercantile Tax Plan Approved

Council Adopts Schweinsberg's Mercantile Tax Plan At Meeting Monday

Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg's mercantile tax plan was adopted by council at a meeting held in city hall Monday. The vote was four to one. Councilman Richard I. Davis voted negatively. Mayor John F. Haven said he voted reluctantly for the measure. However, he did so, he said, because, if there is no mercantile tax, corporations will escape paying the tax.

Last year the wage tax was 10 mills and a wage tax was credited on his mercantile assessment.

This year the city only receives 6 1/2 mills wage tax and the school board receives 3 1/2 mills wage tax. Hence, according to Mayor Haven, the merchant will receive a credit of only 6 1/2 mills, as against 10 mills, as of last year against the mercantile tax.

Under state law the city can only charge $100 mercantile tax, although a chain of stores or a corporation does $250,000 or more worth of business.

Mr. Davis said the plan, in his opinion, will increase the taxation of the little merchant, which he added, will mean more to the little merchant than the maximum $100 received from the 'big fellow.'

Present Two Forms According to the Schweinsberg plan, the mercantile tax assessor would present forms to merchants not subject to the net profits tax and also forms to those subject to net profits tax.

Notice would be given those not liable to pay net profits tax to pay their mercantile tax to City Treasurer Hanlon.

The form to be given merchants liable to pay the net profits should state the amount of mercantile tax assessed, and if he paid Earned Income Tax Receiver McClung, it would be credited against the net profits tax.

He would not be required to make a return of net profits tax until the following March when he will make a return of the net profits tax for the preceding year. This is designed to relieve the small merchant from making quarterly payments of net profits tax because his deposit of his mercantile tax would exempt him from further liability for that year.

Davis Statement During the discussion, Councilman Davis issued a statement which follows:

"In voting against a mercantile tax at this time, I would like to explain that I feel as a councilman, I should do what is best for the community. I have been a small business man and appreciate the tax problem facing him.

"While city council in the past year has actually given a 3.5 mill tax reduction, since there has been no increase in real estate taxes, yet this 3.5 savings has been added to the school tax.

"Under present setup the local merchant is given credit for his income tax against the mercantile tax so that last year, with the city getting 10 mills, few merchants had to pay the mercantile tax but with the reduction of the city tax to 6.5 mills the merchant will have to pay the difference, so that a merchant with a large gross income may have to pay $35 additional taxes to the city and school. While the city would not be collecting any more from the merchant than last year, nevertheless, I think we should look at his total tax assessment.

"I realize that the city may lose considerable revenues from the chain stores, but I believe $35 means more to the little local fellow than the maximum of $100 we receive from the big fellow. I do not believe that the large out-of-town merchants are contributing their share to the local community, and I believe a concerted effort of all third class cities should be made to get legislation passed whereby we can tax them in proportion to the business they do in this community."

PASTOR EMERITUS WARREN, Pa., Jan. 24.—Rev. Arthur McCormick was honored today by being named pastor emeritus of the Second Presbyterian Church at Oil City. Rev. McCormick moved here after retiring following many years of service.

'Trucks Prohibited' Procedure Reversed

LA PLATA, Md., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The often-seen highway sign "trucks prohibited" will be reversed this spring on a stretch of U. S. Highway 301 near La Plata. The highway section will be for trucks only, and passenger cars will be routed on to a parallel stretch of old road.

It is all in the interest of science. The Maryland Highway department seeks to determine the effect of trucks weighing as much as 44,800 pounds on reinforced concrete roads.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

A GIRL? OH, WELL!

In spite of the progress we have made in this country in treating boys and girls alike, many people still feel and act as though it's much more important to be a boy than a girl. Here's an amusing illustration of this attitude.

One of our friends is expecting her first baby. Her 16-year-old brother has been very enthusiastic about the idea. He has talked a lot about the things he and his expected nephew would do together how he would teach the young sprout to play ball, go on hikes with him and a lot of other things. Recently, his sister said, "But, Bill, what if the baby is a girl? What will you do then?" With a certain tone of scorn in his voice, Bill replied, "Oh, just let her grow up."

Yes, we still have a considerable way to go before girls are given equal treatment. We've made progress of a substantial sort, but the old attitudes don't drop out too easily.

As parents, we should watch ourselves to be certain that even without realizing it, we give boys many more "breaks" than we do girls. In a democracy it is important that all individuals, no matter what their race, religion or sex may be, have the opportunity to make the most of themselves.

Scrap Firm Buys 136 Locomotives

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—An official of a Pittsburgh district steel scrap firm announced the purchase of 136 steam locomotives from the Pennsylvania Railroad in what he said was "the largest transaction of its kind ever made."

Robert Amper, secretary-treasurer of the Southwest Steel corporation, said the PRR is in the process of delivering the locomotives, which range from 150 to 300 tons in weight.

They will be dismantled at Southwest's yards in Glassport and the steel scrap will be shipped to U. S. steel plants.

Amper said Southwest bought about 75 locomotives on the same basis last year. He said the purchase was made possible by the railroad's change-over from steam to diesel power.

Rotary Hears New York Man

Dr. Benjamin F. Farber, Of Fourth Presbyterian Church, Discusses U.N.

SAYS PATIENCE IS NEEDED NOW

New Castle Rotary club members had the privilege of hearing Dr. Benjamin F. Farber, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, of New York City, discuss the United Nations Assembly, at its noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday.

Dr. Farber is married to a former New Castle woman, and was pastor of a Pittsburgh church before going to New York. He was the guest here of Al Teshen, a member of Rotary, and also of the First Presbyterian church, whose pulpit Dr. Farber occupied Sunday.

Dr. Farber, in his address, stated that the United States has a tremendous stake in the United Nations, and hence all citizens should be deeply interested in what is taking place there.

Outlined U. N. History
He outlined the history of the United Nations, and some of its successes in averting clashes between nations and factions during its brief existence.

He directed the attention of the audience to three attitudes, which if the people of this country will adopt them, will bring results.

The first of these, he stated was patience. Re-examination and a re-approach are needed for many problems, and a settlement today on some of these problems does not mean a settlement for tomorrow.

The second, he listed as persistence. Patience, and persistence, he stated go hand in hand.

He cited instances of where small nations have been just as determined as some of the larger ones and have won victories.

The third, he listed as prayer. The United Nations, he stated is a great organization, but it will never be the organization it is intended to be until all nations of the world come to recognize the sovereignty of God. The heart, he stated, must lead the mind to the light of day.

OVERCOMING NERVOUSNESS IN SPEECH

"Can you suggest a cure for shyness? While I have a good education and a good vocabulary, I am shy in the presence of people I don't know well and get my tongue twisted, uttering all sorts of backwards sentences that I never meant to say. Naturally, as a result of this I am quiet and retiring. Can you help me out?"

Answer: We all get our tongues twisted at times and must endure laughter at our expense. Enjoy the joke along with others. I know it isn't much fun, though, to find oneself the object of laughter too frequently.

To help correct your habit of twisting your sentences, why don't you when you are at home alone have conversations with yourself? Read aloud and grow used to the sound of your voice. This will help to correct your diction and give you self assurance.

The best way to overcome such nervousness is to plunge into social conversations and take a chance. Self-consciousness results from too much solitude and too much concentration on one's self. Speak slowly and carefully, forming your words with precision. Emphasize every syllable until you conquer your tongue-twisting, which invariably results from too-rapid talking plus lack of confidence.

If you become discouraged at the start, read a biography of the great Greek orator, Demosthenes, whose career depended upon public speaking but whose impediment in his speech so embarrassed him that he went into retirement and practiced oratory in solitude on the seashore until he made himself one of the greatest orators of all time.

Question: Who should take the woman guest-of-honor in to dinner?

Answer: She should be taken in by the host and seated at his right.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

There will be a meeting of the Knights of Columbus on Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, in the K. of C. hall, 349½ East Washington street, with grand knight James T. Carey in charge.

Introduces Bill To Curb Power Of Labor Unions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Sen. Robertson (D) Va., on Monday introduced legislation which would curb the power of labor unions by placing them under the restraints of anti-trust laws.

In submitting his bill to the senate, Robertson said it was designed to correct a situation in which John L. Lewis is able to "tie up the coal resources of the nation" with his three-day work week. Robertson lashed out at "blatant" attempts by union leaders to get control of an industry, as exemplified by Lewis, as "intolerable" and "crying for correction". The bill would amend anti-trust laws to state that it is unlawful for a union or its members to restrain interstate commerce.

Declares Cost Of Pensions Necessitates Steel Price Increase

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, said today that the December increase in steel prices was more than justified by the cost of pensions to steel workers.

Fairless, testifying before the Joint Congressional committee on the Economic Report, declared that the steel corporation favors "pension and insurance benefits for our employees. Our earnings, however, are not sufficient to permit us to absorb the large costs involved. That is the reason we raised prices."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D, Wyo., chairman of the committee, said that Fairless would be called upon to "justify" the increase in steel prices.

To Cost 67 Million Yearly

Fairless replied that the pension program, part of Big Steel's new contract with the CIO steelworkers union, is estimated at a cost of 67 million 500 thousand dollars a year, plus increased social security taxes of three million, four hundred thousand dollars a year.

The steel company president said:

"These costs alone are $3.88 per ton and more than offset the $3.82 per ton which we hope to obtain from our price increases."

In addition to pension and insurance costs, Fairless said, coal costs mounted 20 million dollars in the past year, and freight and fuel oil costs 13 million more.

Attacks Estimate

Fairless attacked estimates of the corporation's long-term income "based on one-quarter or one-half year earnings at an extraordinary high rate of production" as a basis for price quotations.

He also declared that while the workers have benefited by wage increases, others had not. He said:

"We did not believe in December, nor do we believe now, that there is any good reason why we should sacrifice the income of stockholders and the interests of the business as a whole in order to provide additional benefits for our employees."

"Stockholders, as well as employees, are entitled to consideration when determinations are made as to how the enterprise is to be operated."

Youth On Trial For Brother's Murder

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Twenty-six-year-old Paul Woods of nearby Sharpsburg was on trial in criminal court in Pittsburgh today charged with the murder of his brother Theodore during an argument.

Woods, who pleaded not guilty, is accused of killing his brother with a shotgun at the home of Mrs. Marion Bowman, 23, in nearby Shuler township last August 6. Woods had told police he intended to marry Mrs. Bowman and was financing her divorce.

According to police reports, the two brothers had been drinking together, then went to Mrs. Bowman's place. Woods has insisted the shotgun was fired accidentally.

Prosecutor Leo T. Kelly indicated at the opening session yesterday that he would not seek any specific penalty if Woods is convicted.

Next week's program, which will be held at the regular meeting place, will feature Paul "Lefty" Minner, pitcher for the Chicago Cubs.

It was also announced that several members of the New Wilmington club and their wives will attend the program of the New Castle Kiwanis tonight in The Castle-ton hotel.

Continue Plans For Croton Centennial

Mrs. Russell Gormley conducted the meeting with various committees appointed and approved. An outline of the program was given with announcement that Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke of Pittsburgh and Dr. Thomas Morris of Grove City will be on the speaking program. A pageant, a visiting choir, a fellowship program and the Croton choir cantata are events that are looked forward to with anticipation.

The group will meet again on February 12 at 3 p. m. in the pastor's study of the church.

Bright Sun Cause Of Many Accidents

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Forgetting to pack one's toothbrush isn't half as bad as forgetting a pair of sunglasses when the trip is to the seashore.

That's the opinion of Dr. Robert H. Packham, Temple university medical professor who warns that bright sunlight contributes to many automobile accidents.

After examining lifeguards at Atlantic City, the scientist concluded that exposure of the eye to the sun's glare cuts down the retina's sensitivity approximately 80 per cent.

Dr. Packham labels this a hazard to the highway because "... the effect of the exposure may last more than a week."

Sunglasses—"the darker the better" will prevent this loss of vision, he says.

They don't have to be expensive, he added, cheap one's will suffice.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Cocktails in 1950 will have a greater potential kick—cause they'll be embroidered on stockings!

Hosiery makers in New York today introduced the "novelty nylons" for next spring. They were embroidered, hand-painted, plastic coated, beaded and inset with lace or mesh.

Most unusual of the "fash stockings" are cocktail-hour hose, embroidered with colorful martini and Manhattans at mid-calf height on the left leg. Bubbles (also embroidered) bubble up the leg, over the knee, and into the skirt-concealed beyond.

One maker described the stockings this way:

"In delightfully bad taste, don't you think?"

County Industries See No Immediate Shortage Of Coal

In More Favorable Position Than Most Of Industries In District

Lawrence county industries are in a more favorable position to withstand the current coal strike without shutdowns than most of the industries from surrounding counties, it was announced today by George Gettings, manager of the Pennsylvania Employment office on East Washington street.

A survey of major county industries, by the local employment office, showed that there is no immediate danger of a coal shortage among those industries.

Most of the industries stated that they had a six to eight weeks supply of coal on hand and many stated that they are equipped to switch to gas and oil if necessary. Meanwhile, it is reported that several plants outside the county are not in such a favorable position and that unless the coal strike is settled soon some cut-backs may be expected.

Prosecutions On Perjury Charges

Velde, a member of the house group, in a prepared house speech, said that Dr. Joseph Weinberg, identified as "Scientist X", he brought to trial on perjury charges and that Steve Nelson, a western Pennsylvania communist organizer, he indicted for contempt of congress.

Weinberg, a former atomic scientist at the University of California radiation laboratory, was questioned extensively last session as to whether he turned over a secret atomic formula to Nelson.

Taylor Tells Owlett
Way Is Still Open
For State Harmony

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Republican State Committee Chairman M. Harvey Taylor today told National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett that the way is still open for agreement on running mates for Gov. James H. Duff in the May 16 primary election.

"I want harmony in the Republican party," Taylor told Owlett in a letter addressed "Dear Mason" and signed "Harve".

The two party leaders, on opposite sides of the state-making fence, had been involved in a none-too-pleasant exchange of statements last week over Duff's candidacy for Senator.

"At the present time I am not committed to anyone for any office save that of United States Senator," Taylor said.

"I am willing to devote all reasonable efforts to the end that the party in the November elections may present the strongest and most popular candidates as running mates with Gov. Duff," he added.

FORD'S BIG FRIEND—SMALL BUSINESS

WHAT'S GOING ON AT FORD

1. THE G.P. DREAM began to come true for Charles Bachrach, of Des Moines, Iowa, when Tyty Lory arrived in America. They met in France during the war, planned to marry. Two days before the wedding, Captain Bachrach was shipped home. Later Tyty came over as a G.I. bride (to-be), and they were married. So, part of the dream was realized. But, like many other veterans, Chuck also wanted a business of his own. He was lucky—because there was an inventive friend in his past, and Ford in his future.

2. THE PRODUCT was the suggestion of Chuck's old friend Len Neufeld. He had an idea for a better windshield washer. Chuck was enthusiastic, and so every night after work, they labored to perfect the washer. It took them four months. Then they went to a company known to be friendly to small businesses—Ford.

3. THE CUSTOMER wasn't tough. Like every manufacturer or supplier who calls on Ford, Chuck and Len were seen immediately, listened to attentively. What's more, Harold Kohlmeier and Gil Meyer of the Purchasing Department, liked their device. Ford would be interested in it if it got Engineering O.K.

4. THE TESTS were tough. For months Jack Taylor, Ford Engineer, subjected the new washer to every possible test. Ford engineers suggested a new nozzle and pump. These were designed and installed. In March, 1948, Ford Engineering approved the "See-Clear" Washer. Immediately, Ford Purchasing ordered 10,000.

5. "HELP WANTED" sign went up fast. "The Delman Corporation" rented factory space, hired 12 employees (mostly ex-G.I.'s), learned what Ford teamwork means. Ford Engineers helped them plan manufacturing operations. Ford Purchasing helped get machinery, materials. Soon The Delman Corporation was a going concern.

Teamwork with 7,200 independent businesses makes Ford's business possible—and vice versa

HENRY FORD II, President of Ford Motor Company, recently said, "One of our greatest assets can be a large group of supplying organizations that is alert, progressive and money-making."

It's easy to see why. Each year Ford Motor Company buys $700,000,000 worth of products from 7,200 independent manufacturers and dealers in 43 states. Producing everything from asbestos to carburetors, these suppliers make possible Ford's annual production of over a million Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars and Ford trucks and tractors. That's why it's a basic Ford policy to help each supplier become a sound, profitable business.

Ford is a big customer, and a good one, too. Certainly Ford is cost conscious. You have to be when a difference of 1¢ on a part makes a difference of $10,000 a year. However, Ford pays fair prices. Ford wants its suppliers to be profitable businesses and is always ready to help them improve operations. Ford facilities and experience—purchasing, engineering, manufacturing and management—are available to all suppliers to help make their businesses better.

After all, Ford Motor Company is not just a collection of buildings and machines. It is an organization which enables many men to work together to create products they could not create alone. Essentially, Ford itself is organized cooperation. Ford has found it good—good business and good citizenship—to extend that cooperation to the suppliers whose products are so vital to its operation. The prosperity of these suppliers and that of their hundreds of thousands of employees is equally important—to Ford and to the nation.

It's part of the Ford idea of good business... making the best possible products in the best possible way... for the benefit of all.

6. MANAGEMENT MEETING today finds the company growing. It has 30 employees, makes 150,000 washers a year for Ford, has other customers, and is developing new products. President Neufeld works on those: Vice President Bachrach works on sales, and Tyty takes care of Chuck's home and baby girl. The Delman Corporation, of Des Moines, Iowa, is doing all right as one of Ford's 7,200 independent suppliers. It's part of the Ford idea of good business... making the best possible products at the lowest possible cost.

SPORTS SHORTS

Among the sports celebrities at the Ellwood City VFW All-Sports banquet Sunday evening was Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, one-time great pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and the Boston Red Sox.

Lefty told the vets and their friends several interesting stories about his baseball experiences and among them one that particularly struck the fancy of those present.

It seems that late in the day in the dry part of the year Yankee stadium becomes very dusty and the visibility is not quite up to par.

Well, on one of these days, as Grove tells it, Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees was at bat with two strikes on him and two out. Now Tony was always a dangerous hitter and Lefty suddenly hit on an idea of how to get him out of there.

"I was pretty fast in those days," Lefty recalled. "And I called Micki Cochran out from behind the plate and gave him the ball and told him that right after I went through the motions of pitching the ball to plop the ball hard in his glove."

Well, according to the story, Grove went into his windup, let loose with the imaginary ball and Cochran plopped the ball in his mitt. Sure enough the umpire called it a strike.

Tony turned on the umpire in righteous indignation and shouted: "Why, you blind so-and-so, anyone could see that was a mile out-side."

Another speaker on the same program was Jake Mintz, manager of the world's heavyweight champion, Ezzard Charles.

Jake did his usual job of murdering the English language but in between let it be known that he was trying to build a boxing stable Hill in here and wound up with an average of 360 in 97 games.

He may or not have been official batting champion, depending upon whether league rules required 100 games or not for the title. If he was official winner, it was his second straight year at the head of that league.

A bad back hampered him in early season play and was partially responsible for his leaving here. While here he hit 340.

Beaglers To Hold Banquet

Shenango Valley Beagle club will hold their annual banquet February 11, at the Ranch, about four miles from Ellwood City on the Ellwood-City New Castle highway. Reservations must be made before February 7, according to Clare Martin, R.D. 4.

New Castle At Ellwood Tonight For Section Three Tilt

Wolverines Hold Slight Advantage

Tussle For Cellar Tonight Will Prove Interesting, Ellwood Seeks Loop Win

New Castle's victory hungry Red Hurricanes take to the road tonight in search of win No. 2 in Section Three competition. Their opponents are the hungrier Ellwood City Wolverines who have yet to post their first section triumph.

Both Lawrence county teams have had tough sledding in the fast Section Three competition, which has quickly developed into two separate races—one for the championship and the other for the cellar.

Unfortunately New Castle and Ellwood City are in the battle for the cellar along with Beaver Falls. The battle for first place rests among Sharon, Farrell, Ambridge and Aliquippa.

Game A Toss-Up

In games played so far this season there has been little to choose between the two teams. Ellwood lost to Beaver Falls and New Castle defeated the same team for one score in favor of the Hurricane.

In section games as a whole, however, the Wolverines hold a slight edge. They have scored 186 points as compared to 225 for the opposition. This represents a difference of 39 points or 7.8 points per game.

New Castle, on the other hand, has scored 227 points against 273 for the opposition. This is a difference of 46 points or 9.2 points per game.

The difference is slight and the fact that New Castle has been engaged in higher scoring games further minimizes it leading to the conclusion that these two teams are of almost the same strength.

Result—one of the best basketball attractions of the year in spite of the lowly position of both teams.

The edge—if any—must be given to Ellwood City on the basis of its home floor advantage.

Section Leftovers

Don Reed is no longer scoring leader for Section Three, as was previously announced. Don lost the honors to Bernie Janicki of Ambridge during the past week. Janicki leads with 80 points followed by Reed with 76.

Other high scorers in the section are Bob Harmotta, Ambridge, 72; Reginald Franzkowski, Sharon, 69; Don Stala, Aliquippa, 67; Joey DeLise, Farrell, 61.

Duane Schell, Sharon, hit 11 times out of 11 attempts in the Ellwood City game Friday. That Sharon-Farrell game tonight at the Farrell gym really stacks up as a thriller. Just to make things tough on ourselves we pick Farrell.

Ambridge meets Aliquippa in an equally interesting game. We think Ambridge should win. In other Outside of Section Three the top attraction seems to be the Duquesne-Homestead battle in Section Six.

Fred Haas, Jr. Tourney Winner

Nation's Top Pros Head For Phoenix, For Next Tournament

By CHUCK PANAMA (International News Service Sports Writer)

LONG BEACH, Cal., Jan. 24.—The nation's top tee ace today set their sights on Phoenix, Ariz., stop number four in the 1950 winter swing of the Professional Golfers Association.

In the vanguard of the play-for-pay divotees was Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans who yesterday pocketed $2,000 first place money in the second annual Long Beach open.

Haas was precision personified in the final round as he carved six strokes off par to end the day with a 65 and a four-day score of 268—16 below regulation.

Ben Hogan, whose comeback attempt in the recent Los Angeles open ranks as one of the top sports thrills of all time, missed the play at Long Beach but will join the touring troupe in Phoenix.

The Phoenix tourney has been re-named the "Mighty Mite" in honor of the mighty mite's sensational recovery from a near-fatal automobile-bus collision near his native North Worth, Texas, last year.

Despite Haas' showing in the Long Beach affair, pre-tourney favorites at Phoenix will be Hogan and the man who beat him in the playoff for the Los Angeles championship—Sam Snead.

Snead could do no better than a tie for 14th with a 277 at Long Beach although he clipped seven strokes off par over the short Lakewood Country Club course.

New Castle Interests Take Over Nats

New Castle's future in the Mid-Atlantic baseball league was definitely assured last night, when a group of 15 local businessmen purchased the Erie holdings for a sum of $13,000.

An organization meeting will take place at the New Penn hotel Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A set of officers will be named, along with a board of directors to act temporarily.

Community Proposition

Mike Cannavino, general manager and president the past two years acted on behalf of the Erie interests.

Shares will be offered the New Castle fans at $10.00 per share. It will become a community baseball club owned and operated entirely with New Castle capital.

Every fan who buys a share will be a booster for New Castle's baseball team commonly called The Nats owing to the working agreement with the Washington Senators, who are contributing financial support to the local operation, along with player support.

Contracts Being Mailed

Contracts for the Nats will be in the mail in a few days. Cannavino announced. For a short while Cannavino will conduct the business interests of the team until a new business manager can be secured.

Elmer Daily, president of the Middle-Atlantic league has signified that the league's schedule meeting will be held at New Castle early in February. Uniontown is the only doubtful starter now that New Castle has settled its issue.

Niagara Falls is making a determined effort to get back in the league, and are understood to have first chance at the Uniontown franchise if available.

Hope For Winner

Every effort will be made by the new owners to field a winning team in the circuit this year. New Castle finished seventh and eighth the past two years.

No action has been taken on a playing-manager but Jim Acton of Springfield, Mo., is being seriously considered. After an organization has been effected here, it is believed that a first action must be the selection of a manager.

It was announced by the new owners last night that all debts of the 1949 club will be paid off. The Nats will again utilize P. J. Flannery Memorial field for their home games. There will be 63 home games this year, with no split season.

Mikan Holds Scoring Lead

Six-Foot Ten-Inch Minneapolis Center Has Tied 1,213 Points This Year

(By International News Service)

The main reason the Minneapolis Lakers are in second place in the National Basketball Association's tough central division is the sensational scoring output by their six-foot, ten inch center, George Mikan.

The former DePaul all-American continued to outclass the rest of the NBA in the eight departments of individual play.

Has 1213 Points

Big George has scored more field goals (418), more fouls (377) and more points (1213) than any other league player. Mikan is trailed in these three departments by Alex Groza of Indianapolis who has garnered 322 goals, 292 fouls and has scored 936 points in four less games.

The Minneapolis pivot man also leads Groza in per game scoring average, Mikan averaging 28.2 points for the former Kentucky University great. Groza, however, has the better field goal percentage, 47.7.

Mikan also has scored the highest single game total, 51, against Rochester in a losing cause on Jan. 14 and has the dubious distinction of having committed the most personal fouls, 205.

In the only league action last night, Tri-City upset Anderson, 99-96, on Anderson's home court.

City Baseball Loop To Meet

City Baseball league officers and a representative from each club, will meet at eight o'clock, Tuesday night at Carm's shop, West Washington street, according to President Don Thompson. Plans for the 1950 season will be discussed.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

PROVIDING a story told Here & There by a local deer hunter is true, there is work ahead for Cal Hooper, game protector of Lawrence county. The hunter said he had discovered the carcasses of several deer which had been killed by dogs in Hell's Hollow district. According to the deer hunter, the dogs are running the deer at night. Game Protector Cal Hooper today issued a warning to persons who have damaged and stolen rabbit traps. He said that, if caught, the culprits would be prosecuted. An engineer for the State Game commission, Friday last, inspected the Jordan farm which the Sportsman's Council of Lawrence county, has asked to be turned into a rabbit propagation project. Four hundred acres could be used for the purpose, according to reports. Real wrestling rules permit any hold, grip, lock or trip. However, the strangle-hold, scratching, gouging, hitting, striking, pulling hair, using knuckles, kicking, shutting off breath by covering nose and mouth at the same time, are banned. The feminist spectator, who occupied a front row seat at last Friday night's matches, and against whom a wrestler fell, is yet under the care of a physician. Almost half of the occupants of front seats were women or young girls, and one of the latter made herself decidedly conspicuous by rushing to the ring, and hammering it with her hands whenever her favorite was roughed.

International News Service has telegraphed Here & There stating a reporter quizzed Jake Mintz, manager of Ezzard Charles, world's heavyweight boxing champion, concerning the proposal of Promoter Goldie Ahearn of Washington, that Charles fight Elkins Brothers, for which Charles would receive $35,000. "Mintz says he is considering the offer," the telegram read. Billy Pozza is training for his bout with Tommy Howard of Columbus, Saturday night at Ellwood City, in a fist promotion being staged by the Ellwood City Lions. The long lay-off is apt to affect Pozza's judgment of distance. Next "rasslin" show to be held by the Jefferson A. C. will take place February 8, according to Jac Matchmaker Tommy Leach. Lou Fioxe of Paterson, N. J., has rolled five 300 games in American Bowling league play. He is the fourteenth bowler in the Paterson area to turn in such a feat. Bowlers who have turned in similar feats are Jim Sturm, Los Angeles; Steve Tome, Plymouth, Pa.; while Hank Marino, Milwaukee, has rolled 11 such games, and Walter Ward, Cleveland seven.

Eight Yankees Under Contract

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The New York Yankees have eight players in the fold today for the 1950 season.

Latest players to sign their contracts with the world champions were shortstop Phil Rizzuto, and pitchers Allie Reynolds and Bob Porterfield. The trio came to an agreement yesterday with Yankee General Manager George Weiss.

Rizzuto reportedly signed for $30,000, Reynolds for $25,000 and Porterfield $8,000.

The sparkplug shortstop and Reynolds both got substantial increases over 1949's salary while the sovered Portland received the same amount as last year.

Ahepas Play Loop Game Here Tonight

The New Castle Ahepa basketball team will play the fast St. Nicholas team of Pittsburgh at the YMCA floor here tonight, at 10 o'clock in a Greek Hellenic league battle. The locals have already defeated the St. Nicks at Pittsburgh, in league competition.

The Ahepas are being coached by the veteran Nickie Lucas, with Mike Manos, the business manager. The players are—Chris Ohtites, Mary Koginos, George Ohtites, Pete Demos, Nick Passias, Constantine Ohtites, George Manos, and Butch Roussos.

This is the first year in the Greek league for the locals.

Morellas Will Play Boosters Wednesday

The Morella All-Stars will play the strong East Brook Boosters team at the East Brook high floor at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. It was announced today by Tommy Morella.

The Morellas have carded the powerful Pittsburgh Steelers for a game in February.

Sunday the Morellas will meet the K. Pulaski "Big Five" at the Arena in the first of a two-game series at 4 o'clock for the unofficial city championship.

Hanks Whip Taso, Hold League Lead

Hank A. C. defeated Taso Coal Co., 76 to 45 Monday night in District league play at the Shelby floor.

The win was the seventh straight in loop competition for the local quintet and keeps it in the number one position.

Chuck Rea topped the Hank scorers with 19. Harp Janacone threw in 15 more. Clouse had 21 for the losers.

Many 'Arrests' For Traffic Violations

Police Give Out More Than 100 Tags On Saturday, Sunday And Monday

Judging from the number of tags distributed to motorists, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, for alleged parking regulations, more strict enforcement is under way. More than 100 motorists received tags. Some were for parking cars in alleys, others for double-parking, and yet others for parking over-time at parking meters.

Several days ago, in announcing proposed police changes, Mayor John F. Haven remarked that some police issue tickets, while others do not but added, "I want all motorists treated fairly."

He also commented on alleged speeding, demanding that it be checked immediately. However, the mayor said that he did not want police to arrest any motorist unless the arrest was justified.

Chrysler Plant Strike Threatens On Wednesday

DETROIT, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Eighty-nine thousand auto workers in 25 Chrysler Corp. plants will walk off their jobs at 10 a. m. tomorrow barring unexpected developments at a last-ditch negotiating session in Detroit today.

Threat of a strike that would paralyze a nation-wide network of Chrysler plants hung heavy over the conference table as union and company negotiators met in an almost hopeless effort to settle their pension differences before tomorrow's deadline.

Federal and state mediators worked grimly behind the scenes to avert a walkout, but there appeared little they could do.

Caniff May Be Tried In Warren

WARREN, O., Jan. 24.—Bernard J. Caniff, 48, Youngstown, O., who was exonerated of a Federal kidnapping charge by a Federal Court jury at Pittsburgh, may be brought back to Trumbull county on a charge of robbing the Sekula Food Market.

Whether he will be brought back depends on the Mercer county district attorney who also wants Caniff for a robbery there.

Prosecutor William McLain sent Secret Service Officer Kenneth McNair to Mercer to confer with the district attorney relative to the situation.

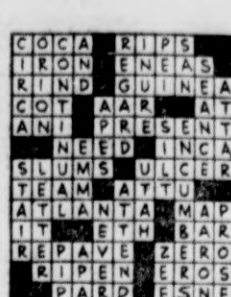

Caniff has refused to waive extradition and Prosecutor McLain plans to take the necessary steps to bring him back to this county if Mercer does not want him.

Caniff was taken into custody by Pittsburgh police immediately after his release on the Federal charges.

Warren Surgeon Takes Own Life

WARREN, Pa., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Coroner Edward C. Lowrey today termed the shotgun death of Dr. E. G. Hamilton, 54, prominent Warren surgeon, a suicide.

Lowrey said Dr. Hamilton shot himself in the head in the bedroom of his Warren home last night. He said the physician, a veteran of both world wars, had been mentally depressed for some time.

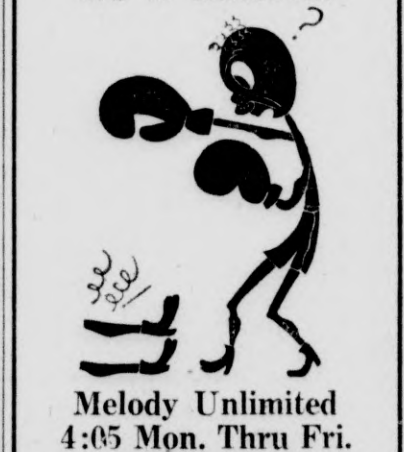

Dr. Hamilton served in the Army in World War I, and was discharged with the rank of Commander in the Navy in World War II. He served at Okinawa and Leyte during World War II.

Exclusive Boston Club Is Robbed

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Police concentrating on solving the week-old $150,000 Brink's Express Company robbery were jolted today by an armed holdup of Boston's famous old Union Club, founded during the Civil War.

Two armed men invaded the exclusive club and escaped with a $1910 payroll which had been delivered only ten minutes earlier by an armored truck of the Brink's firm, victim of last Tuesday's sensational robbery.

'Saarland Detachment From Germany Mistake'

SAARLAND
By ALLAN J. FUNCH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Highly placed administration advisers believe today that the detachment of rich industrial Saarland from Germany would be a major mistake.

The new line of thought—a sharp reversal from the stand only recently enunciated by Secretary of State Acheson—was said to have been dictated by economic necessity.

It is felt among officials studying the matter that Germany must retain the Saar in order to get back on her economic feet.

It was understood that high commissioners of Germany, John J. McCloy, will talk the problem over with President Truman when he goes to the White House this afternoon.

McCloy has returned to Washington for a brief one-week stay for conferences with administration leaders of German problems.

McCloy's return coincided with reports from Paris that France has decided on a stiffer attitude toward granting economic advantages to the Germans because of the position taken by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Adenauer has voiced violent criticism over proposals to attach the Saar to France.

Not Too Happy

American officials are not happy about Adenauer's demand for the retention of the industrial rich area, but at the same time recognize that he is motivated largely by domestic political considerations.

Acheson recently told a press conference that the administration's policy is to favor attachment of the Saar to France, which now claims major control over the coal mines in the area.

Adenauer has contended that Germany bought the mines after World War I.

The difficulty with this contention, according to officials, is that while Germany did "buy" them, Germany never paid for them.

At the same time some critics of administration policy point out that U. S. commitment to give the Saar to France deprives Washington of an important bargaining weapon.

Not Permanent Boundaries

Under present arrangements, Poland has control over former areas of Germany reaching to the Oder-Niese line. This is a substantial industrial area of Germany.

The U. S. has never considered the eastern boundaries of Germany as permanent. They feel that these will be set up in the final peace treaty.

Were the future status of the Saar to be fixed at this time, it was said, Russia might retreat from demanding territory to the Social Security Office Had Busy Year Here In '49

Approximately 17,000 Persons In Locality Did Business With City Office

Approximately 17,000 persons in this locality did business with the Social Security office in New Castle in 1949.

The extent to which the administration field office serves all communities in Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties was revealed today in a report made public by Myron Milbourn, manager.

The report also disclosed that in addition to those already on the rolls, about 2,500 additional local residents filed claims for and received retirement or survivors benefits in 1949. More than 5,000 persons made general inquiries about their social security rights.

Dramatic Aspect

The most dramatic aspect of the Social Security Administration office's activity is, of course, the benefit "pay-off." But, the year was also marked by extensive service necessary to the successful operation of the federal insurance program. More than 4,000 residents of the three counties, for the most part younger persons entering the labor market, secured their original social security cards in 1949 through the New Castle office. In addition, 3,400 others, of all ages, asked for duplicate cards because they had lost their original ones or changed names by marriage.

Another duty of the local office that occupied a portion of its time in the past year, according to Mr. Milbourn, is one that could be eliminated by the cooperation of local employees and employers with savings to the government and industries. This applies to the quarterly wage reports that are filed by employers. These reports are the basis of all subsequent benefit payments. In almost 2,000 instances the New Castle office had to make a personal check-back where a worker's name or account number had been incorrectly given on the report.

Social Security is obviously a growing program with every indication that the local office will be even busier in 1950.

Many letters addressed to European towns by prewar names have been returned marked "no such place."

Wilson, who has commanded this district since June, 1948, and who is now pending reassignment.

AIR BRAKES INVENTED

Air brakes for trains were invented in 1869 by George Westinghouse, Jr.

The blowing of big conch-shell horns takes the place of church bells in Kyoto, Japan.

IF YOU ARE A PEPPLESS PETE

When people feel like they are tied to a log every time they try to do something, and their Pep is gone, the chances are it is due to one thing, namely:

BLOOD POVERTY

Your blood cells may be fagged-out or shrunken, and you might not realize it. Even if you eat the "best" foods you may not be getting all the good out of your meals simply because you have SLOW Digestion, without knowing it (or gassy stomach) and as a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! In other words, your blood is not getting the fullest good out of what you eat. So your blood-cells become worn-down and you have only half as much energy as you really need, you get up in the mornings still tired, and your nerves become dull.

Hundreds here in New Castle suffered with "faded-out" blood and stomach gas until they got CERTA-VIN. This is the new medicine containing 12 Herbs blended with Vitamin B and Iron; you take it before meals and it works with your food. Benefit comes quickly. Your food digests FASTER, with less gasiness, and you get more good out of your meals. In a few days your blood is energized with new red cells and your nerves become stronger. Weak, rundown people tell us they soon feel different all over. And best of all, our price on CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this New, modern medicine for only a Few Cents a Day! So don't go on feeling half-sick and half-well. Get Certa-Vin at any drug store in New Castle, or nearby towns.
